We have recently had an interesting question regarding the creation of a by-law to allow pets into a premises. This is not a newsletter about pets, but about the consequences of not checking your Development Approval (DA).

This client had been pushed by a particular lot owner to allow two small pets to be kept in the lot owner’s apartment. The lot owner had an enormous amount of support from amongst the ranks of the Owners Corporation. This support may have been enough to have the by-law passed if it had reached the proposal stage.

We were able to obtain a copy of the development approval and checked this approval in relation to pets. What we found was that, because it was in an environment regeneration area, there were enormous restrictions placed on the ownership of pets. Most importantly, pets were limited to one pet per household and there were certain requirements that a lot owner needed to meet to keep that pet.

A by-law is subordinate to the development approval. If you make a by-law which contravenes the development approval, the by-law is effectively unlawful. If you look at the order of priority, the zoning of a property is the most vital document. Under that comes the development approval and this is followed by the by-law.

Hence, before you make a by-law, you should always refer to your DA to ensure that you are not breaching the development approval. Furthermore, you may need to look at the zoning certificate to ensure that your by-law is not breaching the zoning requirements. If your by-law breaches either the development approval or the zoning, your by-law can be rendered unlawful.

Cheers,
Bailey Compton
and The team at ACP/Leverage!
ARE YOU PUTTING ON NEW STAFF?

THE AUSTRALIAN GOVERNMENT WILL PAY YOU $4000 EACH TIME!
(Conditions apply)

Ask Belinda How

For more Common Property News or to make a comment you can

Visit our Blog

We specialise in all aspects of Strata, On-Site, Facility & Property Management!

Certificate of Registration (Strata)

Combination of self-study together with face-to-face courses available.

1 day + Self-study
Monday 14th to Newcastle
$495

2 days + Self-study
Monday 21st to Tuesday 22nd Nov Sydney
$595

Weekend + Self Study
Sat 26th & Sun 27th Nov Gosford
$495

2 days + Self-study
Monday 5th to Tuesday 6th Dec Castle Hill
$595

Mortgage Broking & Finance Courses also available.

Call our friendly staff today to find a course near you!

1300 88 48 10